The benefits of TENCEL™

What is TENCEL™ ?

TENCEL™ fibres are produced by environmentally responsible processes from the sustainably sourced natural raw material wood. TENCEL™ fibres are found in the collections of many leading designers and renowned retailers.

TENCEL™ branded fibres can offer a range of features including botanic origin, sustainable production, gentleness of skin, long-lasting softness, silky smoothness, enhanced breathability, colour retention and biodegradability.

The science...

To investigate the differences between the active cooling properties of TENCEL™ and polyester fibres, tests were performed with a T-shirt made in two halves: polyester on the left and TENCEL™ on the right. An infrared camera monitored the surface temperature of both halves. At the end of the test the surface temperature of the TENCEL™ fabric was higher. It demonstrates the way TENCEL™ fabric dissipates heat better during high sweat production. A temperature difference of 0.5 to 1°C may seem small, but in terms of physiological effect it is very significant.

TENCEL™ fibers bring consumers a new standard of natural comfort

The benefits of TENCEL™

- A higher moisture absorption capacity than cotton
- Blended fabrics dry quickly, which means the wearer feels considerably cooler when temperature rises
- Reduces bad odours
- The fibre is much smoother and softer, making the garment more comfortable
- Superior tenacity in both wet and dry conditions: the combination of polyester and TENCEL™ offers enhanced durability and increases the service life of the garment
- Eco-friendly and sustainable
